PROFILE

I'm a Computer Scientist born and raised in Fier, Albania. At the moment I am BSc Graduate in Computer Science at Jacobs University Bremen, Germany. My purpose is to seek a fun and challenging career in Web Design and Software Development, work with motivated and creative teams and develop my skills and to switch from University to Industry. In order to advance with my Masters studies in the future, I am trying to find the right field of Computer Science through internships and/or full time jobs.
